Montpelier will plume and strut two weeks from today.

Vermont's Indian summer is in many respects the best part of summer.

Vermont has been found "not guilty" of appropriating a part of Canada, and the Canadians will please quash the indictment.

Rutland's rate war in coal would be just the kind of a fever we should like to see in Barre, but that fever does not catch readily.

The one druggist in Burlington who was not included in the sweep of the grand jury's indictments must feel himself a peculiar one.

Lest their readers may be misled, the Vermont papers which are announcing the State Federation of Women's clubs to meet in Barre October 4 and 5, should correct the dates to October 11 and 12. The change was made some time since.

In speaking of the industrial revival in Italy a writer says that country has comparatively made the greatest progress of any in Europe during the last ten years. The savings of the people show large gains. The reports show that this is partly accounted for because of the accumulations made by emigrants to the United States and South American countries. The same writer says that half of the Italian emigrants to the United States return to their native country.

PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE FEATURE.

The indictment and arrest of twelve Burlington druggists on the charge of violation of the liquor law is based on the section of the recently enacted law which declares that the holding of a government license shall be considered as prima facie evidence against the holder. The section, which is numbered 59, reads as follows:

"The receipt for, or record of, the payment of the United States special tax, as a liquor seller, shall be prima facie evidence that the person named therein keeps for sale, and sells, intoxicating liquors."

This was a section on which the temperance committee in the legislature of 1904 had a great deal of discussion in their attempt to frame a satisfactory law. Its final insertion in the completed instrument was more or less of a concession to the prohibition element on the committee which stood out for some points when it was realized that a law more to their liking was impossible at that session of the legislature. Prima facie evidence was a prominent feature of the old prohibition regime. Rather than appear too selfish the ultra-license members of the committee agreed to admit the section. And there it stands. The state's attorney of Chittenden county now takes it up and proceeds to secure indictments against the druggists of Burlington. One of the druggists who were arrested yesterday says that he was informed by the internal revenue collector that he must get the special stamp before he could sell such mild products as grape juice or claret syrup in his soda fountain. If the holding of the government stamp for the sale of grape juice or claret syrup, only, makes him liable to punishment for violation of the Vermont liquor law, then the druggists of Vermont are being subjected to an injustice; provided, of course, that the druggists sell nothing of a more intoxicating nature. In that case, nearly every druggist in the state is liable to arrest and trial.

Yes, the last season's Coat is at least four inches behind the times. One can't put a flounce on it. The only thing is to fire it "all-fired quick" and come here. Suits Ready to Wear, $5.00 to $25.00. Suits Made to Order, $15.00 to $40.00.

The prima facie feature of the license law will need to be looked after at the next session of the legislature, not with a view to letting down the bars in front of the druggists, but to protect them from unjust hardship. On December first they will be required to take out a license for the sale of patent medicines. And what druggist does not sell patent medicines? Therefore, what druggist will be safe from prosecution for the illegal sale of liquor?

Lots of Rows Between Husbands and Wives

Would be avoided if the wife took the daily bill of fare in the Boston Daily Globe and arranged her table accordingly.

NORTHFIELD.

James Howard, N. U. '03, of Bellows Falls, was a visitor in town on Monday.

Miss Jeannette Giffin and Miss Leomin of Hartford, Conn., are visiting at the home of Miss Giffin's mother on North Central street for a few days.

William Washburn of New York city spent Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. Asa Strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webster of Montpelier visited friends in town on Saturday.

H. C. Cady and A. E. Denny have gone to Rutland on business.

A. J. Sibley of Montpelier visited W. A. Blake on Friday.

Mrs. Sarah Cotta of Jamaica Plains, Mass., is visiting at Mrs. James Cone's for a week.

L. A. Thayer of Newport visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sanford Kent, last week.

Miss Daniel Davis left on Saturday for a short stay in New York.

Miss Anna French of Concord, N. H., arrived in town on Saturday night and will visit at the home of her brother, A. K. French, for three weeks.

Gardner Murphy of Boston is spending his two weeks' vacation among friends and relatives in town.

Rev. William Schofield of Williams-town officiated at the Congregational church last Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Callahan and children, who have been spending a week with relatives in town, returned to their home in Montpelier on Saturday.

Miss Lizzie Hennessey was in Montpelier on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Day of Manchester, N. H., who have been visiting with relatives in this town, Essex Junction and Burlington for the past three weeks, returned home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Huff, who has been the guest of Mrs. Maria Howe for a few days, returned to her home in Brockton, Mass., on Saturday.

Mrs. Alice Rumbach and daughter, Miss Martha, of Burlington visited in town last week.

Mrs. Paulina Davis returned on Friday from an extended trip in the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron M. Gould of Denver, who have been visiting at Mrs. H. E. Reed's home on Central street, left for North Adams, Mass., where they will visit relatives before returning west.

On Friday night, John Cannon was arrested by Officer Robinson and pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication in the police court on Saturday. He was fined $5 and costs of $5.70, and took the alternative sentence in the county jail at Montpelier, being taken there by Officer Robinson on the afternoon train.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McCutcheon were called to St. Johnsbury on Monday by the sudden death of Mr. McCutcheon's brother, John, which occurred at 4:30 that morning.

James Holland sold his new house on South Main street on Monday to N. W. Wheeler, clerk in Sanborn's drug store, through the M. D. Smith agency.

CHELSEA.

Burt Wood of Barre city was a guest at Norman B. Davenport's on Court street Monday.

Charles Hutchins of South Royalton was in town Tuesday, looking after repairs on the New England phones in the village, and went from this place to Washington.

Miss Ada Greene, who has been serving as table girl at the Orange County Hotel, left for Barre city Monday, to remain with friends.

Constable C. E. Godfrey went to Tunbridge Tuesday, where he "wielded the hammer" at the auction sale of Mrs. Nellie Peabody. Charles' ability and reputation as a hustling, "top dollar" auctioneer, has passed beyond the confines of his own town, and his services are in demand in various places throughout the county.

Calvin W. Goodwin, for forty years one of the most progressive and prosperous farmers on the west hill, who sold his farm last spring and since that time has been undecided as to where he would locate, has after prospecting for a home in different sections of New England finally decided that Chelsea is an Eden for the "rest of his labors," and agreeable to the wisdom of his decision succeeded in closing a deal on Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams for their pleasant and commodious house on Jail street, consideration about $900. The citizens of Chelsea will be glad to know that Mr. Goodwin has decided to remain in town, and the citizens of the village will extend a hearty welcome to the family as residents.
